

robot walks along the former Y-axis walking direction and returns to the step 100; and if the determination result is negative, the method proceeds to the step 500.

* * * * *